

The NCC Bid Process

1. Bids for hosting the National Corrections Conference to be held 2 years from the current event will be presented in person during the Business Meeting of the current year. It is suggested that copies of the proposal, including date, location, room rate, and banquet cost (if one will be provided), be available when the bid is presented. Please provide costs in U.S. dollars.
2. The date for the National Corrections Conference will be the 1st or 2nd full weekend of November.
3. Bids will be considered for a location within the 93 delegate areas that attend the General Service Conference.
4. It is important that the proposed site have convenient access to major transportation; sufficient sleeping rooms; sufficient meeting room size; a hospitality room; space for Archives, Grapevine, and Literature (especially as it relates to Corrections and Bridging the Gap); and availability of nearby restaurants.
5. Selection will be determined by vote of all AA members present at the business meeting using the Third Legacy process
6. Host Committee Chairpersons should be available to participate in Advisory Committee conference calls during the planning process. Further it is requested that rotating Host Chairpersons continue in an advisory capacity after their event, as needed.
